What do Mick Jagger, Jerry Hall, Yoko Ono, Charlie Chaplin & a Number of Royalty from a Variety of Countries all have in Common?

Two things it seems.

For one they have all have stayed at the iconic Villa Batujimbar, an absolute beachfront villa in Sanur, Bali. Some came to party, some to marry, some had trysts with those who were already married and some had simply gone there to relax and delight in the privacy, grace and grandeur that is always on offer at Villa Batujimbar.

There are eight bedrooms with luxury ensembles all set in a hectare of park-like grounds that are fringed with heritage trees and dotted with stone statues and ponds. At the foot of these sprawling gardens is the villa's own private doorway which opens straight onto the pristine, white, sandy beach of Sanur.

Fully staffed, including a private chef, multiple living pavilions, gym, 20 metre pool and a tennis court all reinforce the faultless credentials of this property.

Secondly?

Impeccable taste.
